“Help Me Get to Tampa!”

Hi everyone! I’m [Your Name], and I’m part of our school’s broadcast journalism team.

This year, I have an amazing opportunity — our team has been invited to the Student Television Network Convention in Tampa, Florida!

The STN Convention brings together thousands of student broadcasters from all over the country to learn, compete, and create.

It’s a one-of-a-kind experience where we get to collaborate, challenge ourselves, and grow as storytellers.

Every little bit truly counts in helping me get there — from covering travel costs to competition fees. Your support means so much and helps make this dream possible.

I can’t wait to bring back new ideas, skills, and stories to share with our broadcast team and our community.

I’m so grateful for your help in getting me to Tampa — and I can’t wait to make you proud.

Thank you for believing in me and in the stories we tell.
